15th Friendship Junko Baseball Tournament kicks off the Explosive Sports Month of December

(Friday, December 5, 2008 – Tumon, Guam) Attention all sports fanatics! As the Christmas season begins, island residents and visitors have so much more to look forward to than the usual holiday fare. In between all the shopping and decorating, take advantage of all the sporting events that are happening around the island beginning the first week of December.

To start off the roster of sports events, several Japanese University teams will be competing in a series of friendship games over the weekend. Tokyo Big 6 University League All-Stars, Toto University League Selection B-team, Kanagawa University League All-Stars, Toto University League Selection A-team will compete against Guam's local teams – Gatorade Giants, AK Islanders, Guam Greyhounds and Bank of Guam Athletics – at the Leo Palace Resort Baseball Stadium in a 2-day tournament.

The Sports Tourism market is one, which continues to grow and mature over the years. Guam is an ideal destination to host sporting events, especially during the winter months of nearby Asian countries. Over the years, Guam has played host to an abundance of sporting groups and countries.
