GVB Announces Ernie Galito as New Deputy General Manager

(Monday, May 4, 2009; Tumon, Guam) The new Deputy General Manager of the Guam Visitors Bureau is very familiar with the responsibilities his position entails. The staff and management welcomed Ernie A. Galito as he was introduced as their new Deputy General Manager. Galito served on the GVB Board of Directors for four years and was later named GVB Deputy General Manager from 2002 – 2004.

As Deputy General Manager, Galito will provide administrative guidance, especially with regards to GVB Destination Management, as well as supporting the General Manager and Board of Directors. Galito will also work on executing the Guam Branding initiative.

Most recently Galito was the Marketing & Product Development Manager for GTA Teleguam. “Ernie has always kept a close relationship with the visitor industry,” said General Manager Gerald S.A. Perez, “He has proven himself to be a capable administrator serving on several committees and I am looking forward to working with him again on a day to day basis. Judging by the reaction of staff when I introduced Ernie as our new DGM this morning, they couldn’t be happier with his selection.”

Galito holds a BA in English from Mississippi State University and brings a vast experience in local media, marketing communications, and private sector business operations to GVB.
