Guam Supermarket Promotes Island Spirit in Village Competition

(Wednesday, March 18, 2009; Tumon, Guam USA) Guam is going green and long time local supermarket, Pay-Less Markets, is leading the way. The grocer will be holding an islandwide village competition called the Pay-less Kick the Fat 5k and Community Fair, beginning this Saturday, March 21 in front of the Hagåtña Pay-Less in the Agana Shopping Center.

The competition is called "RESPETU: Body. Land. Culture." and is being held to celebrate the Hafa Adai spirit with in our communities. Nineteen village mayors have committed to participating in the competition and the winning exhibit will receive $2,000 for their village.

The Community Fair is another way the Pay-Less Markets Community Foundation is continuing to work towards improving the quality of life on Guam. Other projects the grocer has been involved in include recycling (Pay-Less Goes Green), education, beautification, healthy living (Kick the Fat 5k) and cultural revival through its annual Fiestan Pay-less Markets promotion.

The Pay-less Kick the Fat 5k and Community Fair village exhibition will be on display at the Agana Shopping Center until March 31, 2009.
